Join equestrian performing artist, trainer and clinician Cynthia Royal and her Andalusian horse, Lord of the Rings Shadowfax movie star Blanco, along with Tony Royal and several of their other liberty-trained exhibition horses, as they come to your area for a unique and exciting private 2-evening clinic. Based on the ground breaking approach featured in the upcoming television show Horse Talk and just released DVD video training series, you will learn their truly unique and exciting method, unlike any other in its simplicity, results, and sheer enjoyment.

Cynthia translates the way horses naturally interact with one another into an extremely easy, quick and effective system of communication necessary as the foundation to any successful program. In a free, open environment and without the use of force or other restraint, you will learn how to build a magical relationship with any horse by interacting in a way the horse will instinctively understand. Learn the secrets of how to become BOTH your horse's trusted friend AND nurturing leader, gifting the horse with what he needs most to feel safe and happy. Described as "The Missing Link" in most training programs, this approach applies to anyone involved with horses and any horse of any age, training or experience, paving the way for harmony and success in any discipline or equine pursuit.

In addition to the myriad benefits such a partnership affords, this approach is the foundation for easily and quickly achieving bridleless riding, further expanding your relationship with your horse. Learn how bridleless riding through this approach results in a deeper connection with your horse and a more sensitive, aware, confident rider for all mounted disciplines. Also, glean insight on how to teach such trick behaviors such as the bow, lie down, sit, march and rear with suggestion, rather than force and restraint.

Cynthia is a dynamic and captivating clinician, who motivates and inspires with her Follow Your Dreams approach. Her passion for this work and the horses shines through as she spreads the word of a new way of being with our equine partners. This is literally a life altering experience not to be missed!

On the first evening, the method will be covered in its entirety. On the second evening, attendees will have the opportunity to practice what they have learned with the Discover The Magic horses and watch as Cynthia demonstrates the approach on several new horses (Contact us to submit your horse for consideration. Modest additional fee applies.). Advance on-line tickets for the 2-evening event are $75. Tickets are available at the door for $100.
